

Syril & Dr. Norman Reitman Scholar in Residence

Proudly Present...

Rabbi Dr. Ron Kronish

Scholar, blogger, author, interreligious educator and activist

Contemporary Issues Facing Israel and America in the 21st Century

Friday, November 30—Sunday, December 2

Friday, November 30 at 8:00 pm

“The Other Peace Process—Interreligious Dialogue in Israel in the Service of Peace”

Saturday, December 1 at 9:30 am

The Spirit of Chanukah - Keeping the Flickers of Hope Alive

Saturday, December 1 at 12:30 pm

Lunch and Afternoon Study - Is Arab-Jewish Coexistence within Israel still Possible?

Sunday, December 2 at 10:30 am

Film Screening and Discussion - “I am Joseph Your Brother”, an award-winning film, on Jewish-Christian Relations, both historically and today

Rabbi Dr. Ron Kronish served as the founder and director of ICCI, Israel’s leading interreligious organization, based in Jerusalem until December 31, 2014. He is now an independent scholar, blogger, author, interreligious educator and activist. Rabbi Kronish lectures to a wide variety of groups in Israel, including visiting Jewish, Christian and interreligious groups. In addition, he has been a scholar-in-residence at universities and communities around the world, especially in North America, Europe, but also in the Far East.

Educated at Brandeis University (BA), Hebrew Union College - Jewish Institute of Religion in New York (MHL, rabbinic ordination) and the Harvard Graduate School of Education (doctorate in philosophy and history of education), Dr. Kronish has published articles and essays on Jewish politics, faith communities and the peace process, as well as education, culture and contemporary issues in America and Israel. He has represented ICCI at the Vatican and at many international conferences and is frequently consulted by media representatives for background information and briefings.